

COX FEELS PULSE OF GREAT WEST

Will Give Support To Democratic Doctrines—Speaks in Wyoming

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 28.—Wyoming today received the league of nations and other Democratic doctrines from Governor Cox in two addresses at Laramie and Cheyenne.

Before large theatre audience here tonight and another this afternoon at Laramie the presidential candidate gave his reasons, international and domestic, for American participation in the league, emphasizing again practical argument for Western support, increased markets through world stability, for Western products and use of funds, saved by disarmament, in developing Western resources.

"I have traveled some 8,000 miles since September 2," said the governor tonight. "I have traveled through all states of the mountains and West. I have visited 16 states and spoken to more than a half million people in 200 cities and towns. My advocacy of a peace with honor, my claim that the United States should join the other powers in the league of nations was everywhere welcomed with enthusiasm. There is no doubt where the great West stands on the paramount issue of the campaign.

Progressiveness and non-partisanship in voting on present issues also were urged by the governor, and he reiterated denunciations of "big business" and the "senatorial oligarchy," with further recitals of the alleged "conspiracy of silence."

In discussing the league tonight, Governor Cox denied that it would create a super-government, quoting a similar denial by Former President Taft.

At Laramie Governor Cox referred to the so-called "mysterious letter" of Senator Harding. He propounded a question to Senator Johnson of California asking if Senator Harding had not written Senator Johnson a letter in which the governor said Senator Harding gave a "direct and unreserved promise" that he was absolutely and unreservedly against the league.

AMERICA'S SUCCESS WILL SOON GIVE ENGLAND WAKEUP

London, Sept. 28.—The way in which American is mobilizing her forces to capture the world's trade will soon give England a definite wakeup. An article on America is featured in tonight's Globe in which that declaration is made.

The newspaper draws a graphic picture of the American employers and employees working in harmony throughout the United States with such success that unexampled prosperity is enjoyed, every fifth family possessing an auto, while Great Britain continues its rent and labor disputes and threats of catastrophe strikes which will paralyze English trade and make a disastrous winter for all.

"America," the article reads in part, "is settling its industrial worries quickly, efficiently and determinedly. Her business men are gathering in huge industrial congresses. They are preaching sermons on industry, formulating new economic creeds and stimulating to fresh endeavor all participants in the far flung scheme which is in the back of the head of every American business man—the capture of the world's trade.

"Commercial envoys are scouring Europe. The department of commerce and the state department are working hand in hand. The present coal crisis in Great Britain has in the last few days sent orders worth millions of dollars to the United States. Had it not been for the strike threat, orders would have come here. Before the war Italy bought nine million tons of British coal yearly. Now it is possible that our whole pre-war sale of thirty million tons, to Italy, France and Germany, will be transferred to the United States. We are being forced to give up both shipping and coal, the two best cards of our export trade. Uncle Sam is beating us. A Glasgow corporation recently ordered hundreds of thousands of pounds of steel rails from the United States."
